

Die Martis 1 Junii 1641.

Resolved upon the Question:

THat the Lease of the petty Farm which Sir Henry Garraway, Sir John Wolstonholme, Sir Nicholas Salter, Abraham Jacob, Richard Croshaw, William Garraway, John Mayls, John Williams, and John Hare, took of King James in the seventeenth year of his Reign, was no warrant for them to receive the profits of that Farm, in this Kings time, over and above that 3 d. in the pound, paid by Marchant, Strangers, and such Duties upon Wines, as are antiently due unto the King by Law.

Resolved, &c. That Sir Henry Garraway, and the rest of the Patentees, who took that grant of the Petty Farm from King James, and by Colour of such grant did raise money from the Subject, in this Kings time, under pretence of Customs, over and above that 3 d. in the pound, paid by the Marchants Strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due unto the King by Law, are Delinquents in so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That the Estate of such Persons living or dead, as have by Colour of such grant made unto them by King James, received monies from the subject in this Kings time, under pretence of Custome, over and above 3 d. in the pound, paid by Marchants Strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due unto the King by Law, and likewise of such as have been under sharers with the Patentees, ought to be made liable to restitution, for so much as appears by their accounts, and confession to have been clearly gotten by them.

Resolved upon, &c. That the Lease of the Petty Farm, which Sir Henry Garraway, and the rest of the Patentees took from this King for one whole year, to commence at our Lady day 1631, was no warrant for them to receive the profits of that Farm during that year, over and above the 3 d. in the pound, paid by strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due to the King by Law.

Resolved upon, &c. That Sir Henry Garraway, and the rest of the Patentees, who by Colour of such grant, did raise monies from the Subject, under pretence of Custome, over and above the 3 d. in the pound, paid by strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due by Law, are Delinquents in so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That the Estates of such Persons living or dead, who by colour of that grant received monies from the Subject, under pretence of Custome, over and above the 3 d. in the pound, paid by strangers, and such duties upon Wines as are antiently due to the King by Law, and likewise of such as have been under sharers with the Patentees, ought to be made liable to restitution, for so much as appears by their account, and confessions, to have been clearly gotten by them.

Resolved &c. That Sir Paul Pindar, and Sir John Jacob to whose use in trust the Lease of the Petty Farm was taken for seven years, to commence at our Lady day 1632. and who raised monies from the Subject, over and above that 3 d. in the pound, paid by Merchant Strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due unto the King by Law, under pretence of Custome, by colour of such Grant, are Delinquents in so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That Sir John Wolstonholme the elder, and Sir Abraham Daves, who are since deceased, to whose use in trust the Lease of the Petty Farm was taken for seven years, to begin at our Lady day 1632. and who raised monies from the Subject, under pretence of Custome by colour of such grant, over and above the 3 d. in the pound paid by strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due to the King by Law, were Delinquents in so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That Sir John Wolstonholme the younger, Sir John Harrison, and Sir Thomas Daves, Patentees in the grant of the Petty Farm for the term of seven years, commencing at our Lady day 1632. who have raised monies from the Subject, under pretence of custome by colour of that grant, over and above that 3 d. in the pound, paid by Marchant strangers, and such duties upon Wines, as are antiently due to the King by Law, are Delinquents in so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That the Estate of all such persons living or dead, as have by colour of that Patent received monies from the Subject, under pretence of Custome, over and above 3 d. in the pound payed by strangers, and those duties upon Wines which are antiently due by Law, or have been under sharers with the Patentees, ought to be made liable to restitution for so much as appears by their accounts, and confessions, to have been clearly gotten by them.

Resolved upon, &c. That Sir Paul Pindar, and Sir John Jacob, who have taken severall grants of the great Farm, and by colour of such grants under pretence of Custome, have raised monies from the Subject, over and above the 3 d. in the pound paid by Merchant strangers, and such duties upon Cloth, as are antiently due to the King by Law, are Delinquents in so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That Sir John Wolstonholme the elder, Sir Abraham Daves, and Mr. Abraham Jacob, who are since deceased, who took severall Grants of the great Farm, and by colour of such Grants, raised moneys from the Subject under pretence of Custome, over and above the 3 d. in the li: payed by the Strangers, and such duties upon Cloth, as are antiently due unto the King by Law, were Delinquents for so doing.

Resolved upon, &c. That the Estates of all such persons living or dead, as have by colour of any Patent, received moneys from the Subject, under pretence of Custome, over and above that 3 d. in the pound, payed by strangers, and such duties upon Cloth, and other Goods, as are antiently due unto the King by Law, or have been sharers with the Patentees, ought to be made lyable to restitution for so much as appears by their Accounts, and Confessions, to have been clearly gained by them.
